17 May 1950

The three positions authorized by Section 9 of Public Law 110 are to be filled by the Assistant Director for Scientific Intelligence, the Deputy Assistant Director for Scientific Intelligence, and the Chief of the Plans and Production Staff. Under Public Law 110 and the old Classification Act it had been contemplated to place division chiefs at the P-8 level.

The passage of the Classification Act of 1949 has made Grades GS-16, 17 and 18 available to CIA. However, because of the numerical limitation in Section 9, it is impossible for us to raise our scientific division chiefs to Grades 16 and 17. (It is not contemplated to use Grade GS-18 in this connection.)

At the present time our Office of Scientific Intellgence is composed of several divisions, including the following: Atomic Energy; Biology; Chemistry; Geophysics, Medicine; Physics and Flectronics; Scientific Resources; and Weapons. The heads of these divisions will be responsible for the coordination of all foreign intelligence activities in their particular fields. The work of many of them is self-explanatory. However, some carry more responsibility than would be inferred from the title alone; for example, that the Biology Division is responsible for intelligence work in the field of foreign bacteriological warfare; the Chemistry Division for work in the field of foreign chemical warfare; and the Atomic Energy Division for work in the field of foreign stomic energy developments.

It will be noted that the responsibilities of many of these division chiefs is comparable to that of scientific personnel placed in Grades GS-16 and GS-17 throughout the Department of Defense as well as of scientific personnel in the Atomic Energy Commission.

In order that the most eminent scientists available to us may be placed in these grades where appropriate, and in order that they may not be hired away by the offer of higher grades within the Government, it is requested that the present limitations described above be eliminated.
